QNO1 STANZA

POEM:- OZYMANDIAS

POET:- Percy Bysshe Shelley

Reference

The Poem "Ozymandias" is written by Poet "Percy bysshe Shelley".

Context

This is an ironic poem which tells us that mans feeling of superiority is deception and illusion. and no matter what man is in his life. death is merciless and ends all the luxury of life.

The Poet admires the sculptor for making such an expressive sculpture. The sulptor made such a life like sculpture and have replicated the expressions so accurately. The poet conveyed that the sculptor tried to keep the king what he stands for alive. But nothing in this world is immortal either living thing or art. These lines state that pride hath a fall and however great one is he has to end the broken statue of Ozymandias and the pedestal states that however one is great in life it has to pass through destruction.

Q No 2 STORY WRITING.

Friendship is the hardest thing in the world to explain. But if you have not learned the meaning of friendship, you really have not learned anything. Through thick and thin up and down, your true friends always around. There lived two close friends in a village and were fond of travelling one day they went to a forest to see the natural beauty and walking along the path of forest they were so excited that they did not notice that they have entered deep into the forest. Suddenly they noticed that they have lost their way. They knew it very well that the forest is full of wild animals. So they promised each other that they will never leave each other alone in times of danger. One friend knew how to climb the tree but other did not. Both started to walk through jungle to find the way out. All of a sudden they saw a bear coming towards them they became frightened. One friend said dear friend I know how to climb the tree so I will climb it and you don't know so you run away the other friend became very disappointed. He knew that bear did not eat a dead body so knowing no other way he capitalized the idea and fell flat at the ground like a dead body. and he stopped his breath. The Bear smelled him and thought of him as a dead body and after sometime he went away. The other friend saw every thing they came down from tree and asked the other friend what bear whispered into your ears the friend replied.

"A Bear told me that a friend in need is a friend indeed."

The other friend became embarrassed and apologized for his mistake.

Moral:- "A Friend in need is a friend indeed."
